Processional Music: Love Me Tender

Dearly beloved, we are gathered here today to witness before family and friends the exchange of solemn vows between (first and last name) and (first name) (last name).

If there are any "suspicious minds" present in the audience, "doncha think it's time" to speak "now or never" because "their love won't wait"?

(First name) (Last name), repeat after me:

It took a "hard headed woman" to make a "fool such as I", the "king of the whole wide world". Now "I'm all shook up" over "the wonder of you." I thought you were the "devil in disguise" but you turned out to be my "puppet on a string." I used to "live in the hotel down the end of lonely street" when I thought only "fools fall in love." Now it's "viva las vegas" 'cause "I need your love tonight". "I love you so", whether we have "fame and fortune" or live, "in the ghetto". "You are my good luck charm."

(First and last name), repeat after me:

"It only took one night" to get "stuck on you". Now "my wish came true", you big "hunika hunika burnin' love!" "You're always on my mind." I thought you were "nothin' but a hound dog, cryin' all the time", but now I know "you're my teddy bear" 'cause "tigers play too rough, and lions ain't the kind you love enough." So "kiss me quick" and "love me tender" "for I can't help falling in love with you".

Music solo: "I can't help falling in love with you".

Please take this moment to "surrender" the tokens of your affection.

On behalf of all who are gathered here, we hope the "thrill of your love" brings you a "pocketful of rainbows". By the powers vested in me I now pronounce you Husband and Wife, but remember, there is no "return to sender." Ladies and gentlemen, please join me in welcoming Mr. And Mrs. (last name).
