Who Presents this Bride in Marriage?

Brides family repeat after me: We share in her joy!

Who Presents this Groom in Marriage?

Grooms family & friends repeat after me: We share in his joy!

Welcome

Love has gathered us here today to celebrate the marriage of _____ and _____. After months of planning and preparing the moment has finally arrived. _____ and _____ would like to thank all of you for coming here today, supporting them and celebrating with them one of the most precious days of their lives.

_____ and _____ has expressed their feelings that today is a day of joy, fun and enjoyment for all. They love life, are free spirited, and wanted for you to celebrate their union with them in a light hearted loving way.

So gather around and celebrate with our bride and groom as we listen, watch and rejoice with them as they head into their future as man and wife.

Poem

(Bride & Groom)

Ever wonder why God gives us two? A right hand to show the left what to do, One ear to listen and one to hear the problems of others, their laughter and fears. One eye to watch and one to behold the beautiful treasures that life has to hold, One foot to travel and one to stand tall, Two feet to land on if we should fall, One man to stand by a woman's side; one woman to cherish being his bride. The love between partners comes shining through and that is the reason God has made two.

Address

that poem says a lot about what we are doing here today. Two is always better than one. In times of joy you have someone to laugh with, in times of sorrow you have someone to lean on remember to always...Be understanding of your partner's needs. Hold each other in the highest regard. Have a sense of humor as you meet life's challenges. Honor one another when you are together or apart. Respect each other's differences. Enjoy the good times, and endure the storms. Make your dreams come true, together...Most of all, love one another... and the realization of the meaning of that beautiful promise "To have and to hold..."

(Groom) the woman standing beside you is about to become your wife, (Bride) the man standing beside you is about to become your husband. At this moment you are individual persons, friends, and companions. I ask you at this time to please face each other and join hands as you are now ready to evolve into a new dimension of your life, joining your hearts to one. Nothing will be the same after you make your vows to each you will be very shortly husband and wife.

Honoring Those Not Present:

We wish to take a moment to honor all ancestors and those who could not be here with us today. There are those who could not the trip, and some who have left us. There are those ancestors that are unknown to us, our forebearers of the (bride and groom) let us pause for a moment and bring to mind any and all loved ones. With our thoughts we can include them to our gathering here today.

Love is Eternal:

Bride and Groom repeat after me:

True love is forever,
For true love never dies
We pledge to be together
Until the end of time
We've bound together our souls
We are conjoined in our hearts,
Not even in death...
Shall we find ourselves apart

Vows:

Since it is your intention to join in marriage please face each other and join hands
(your own vows, repeat after vows, simply respond " I DO" vows (your option)

Rings:

May I Have the rings?

You may use your choice of words, choose from our selection or use the following:

Rings are the ancient symbol, blessed and simple. Round like the sun, like the eye, like the arms that embrace. A circle, for love that is given comes back round again and again. Therefore, may these symbols remind you that your love, like the sun, illuminates, that your love like the eye, must see clearly, that your love, like arms that embrace, is a grace upon this world

(Groom) put the ring on your brides finger and repeat after me: As this ring encircles your finger from this day forward, year in and year out, so will my love forever encircle you. Wear this ring as a symbol of this love.

(Bride) put the ring on your grooms finger and repeat after me: As this ring encircles your finger from this day forward, year in and year out, so will my love forever encircle you. Wear this ring as a symbol of this love.

Blessing

You have just shown us your example of your love by coming here today, making your public acknowledgement by exchanging with each other your beautiful wedding rings and proclaiming your love to one another.

May you always feel as close as you do this day. May your lives be graced with good health. May you always find happiness in your home, and may it be a refuge from the storms of life. May your love grow ever stronger as you share your lives together, and may your future be even more wonderful than you dreamed possible.

Pronouncement

Family and Friends:

Do all of you assembled here affirm this marriage and give it your blessings? Please respond "We Do"

I now ask all of you to join in pronouncing (Bride) & (Groom) as husband & wife. So everyone together repeat after me:

We your family and friends, now pronounce you husband & wife.

We have been waiting and watching for this moment so get ready to put your hands together and shout with joy.

Kiss

(Bride & Groom):

You are now husband and wife you may seal your vows with a kiss!

You May Kiss Your Beautiful Bride
